Thanks. Anything on the Council that NYC might claim would impact the requirement to cover Hillview?

Hi Doug,

The current focus of the drinking water quality council (DWQC) is to develop recommendations to the DOH for MCLs on PFOA, PFOS and 1,4-dioxane. Not sure any of these particularly impact NYC, so it is curious that they have it on the agenda. It may be that they are looking forward to something beyond these first tasks, if things go well the council will have recommendations by the spring and will be looking for new tasks then. There is no shortage of potential tasks. Microcystin/HABs is one potential. You should also know that Steve Schindler is a member of the DWQC.

Hi,

Paul Rush and company are heading to EPA-HQ on 1/9 to discuss Hillview. I found out today they added a topic on the NYS Drinking Water Council. Do you have any updates or information on the council as it relates to NYC? Thanks as always!

Tx Doug
